EPISODIC BREAKDOWN

1. Quito, Ecuador

Raw Travel goes to new heights by traveling to the high altitude capital city of Ecuador, Quito. While there, Raw Travel explores the city's old cobblestone streets and historical architecture. Then it's off to the outskirts of the city to visit the Foundation for the Honour of Life School, where we give out much needed school supplies to students from poor and troubled homes.

2. Busing Through Ecuador

Raw Travel takes viewers on a fascinating cultural journey by bus through one of South America's smallest, but most eco-friendly and culturally colourful countries. The producers travel from Quito to the eco-friendly and adventurous retreat of Baños to bike through some of most beautiful scenery in Latin America and partake in some of the regions many adventure sports.

3. Port of Spain, Trinidad

Visiting the Caribbean while staying off the beaten path is not always easy, but the twin islands of Trinidad and Tobago are probably a Raw Traveller's best shot. Trinidad is famous for its carnival celebration and Raw Travel gets the lowdown with the National Carnival Band Association. Plus, the crew gets a lesson on how the island's music has influence on the rest of the world.

4. Rural Trinidad and Tobago

Rob gets a driving lesson on the wrong side of the road as the crew goes against the grain (and most guidebook recommendations) by renting a car to explore rural areas of the island of Trinidad. After a few scary moments, they are able to show viewers the unique melting pot of cultures and religions that make up the islands' cultural identity.

5. Bogota, Medellin & Cartagena, Colombia

Raw Travel invites viewers to forget everything they think they know about Colombia and join the team on a rare and unique look at the new, the real, Colombia. The crew begins in the bustling, modern and sometimes chaotic capital city of Bogota. Then it's down to Paisa country and Medellin, one of Colombia's friendliest cities.

6. Rural Colombia

Travelling through rural Colombia was once unthinkable, but today, the exotic countryside is an undiscovered gem, just waiting to be explored. We begin on Colombia's coast with an off-the-beaten-track look at the remote village of San Basilio de Palenque. This small Afro-Caribbean village first began as a protected refuge for runaway slaves.

7. Buenos Aires, Argentina

In Buenos Aires, Raw Travel digs deep to take viewers inside the large underground music and tattoo scene. Rob learns how to tango like a pro, then heads to a football match. After touring one of the most famous cemeteries in the world, as well as the many diverse and historical neighbourhoods, the crew takes time to give back.

8. Road Trip to Salta, Argentina

Raw Travel explores outside the capital city of Buenos Aires to experience some authentic gaucho culture in San Antonio de Areco. Then it's on to a working ranch that hosts travellers from all over the world. Next the crew takes a look at another side of Argentina as Raw Travel heads to the remote and incredibly picturesque northwest desert region Salta Province.

9. Uruguay

Raw Travel takes viewers to South America, to experience a small country with a surprisingly big and diverse melting pot of culture, Uruguay. The crew begins the journey in the large capital, Montevideo, where they tour the famous old town and take in some authentic Uruguayan culture by sipping mate tea, and eating more grilled meat than anyone ever should.
