

LA Hair (Series 4)

13 x 60' + 1 x 60'

EPISODIC BREAKDOWN

11. Time for Some Hair-apy

After Leah's dramatic departure, the salon needs a new manager. Kim names Terry and Gocha co-managers, and the shears come out. Jonathan appears on local news and enrages Kim with his comments. Gocha questions her relationship with roommate Angela, and gets into trouble when a snitch lays out her dirty laundry. Kim styles Teyana Taylor. Jonathan tries to apologize to Kim for his comments on the news; Kim storms off in a fit of rage. Leah explores a new business partnership.

12. Snitches Get Stitches

In Leah's absence, Kim decides to test Terry and Gocha's management skills by asking them to organize a staff photo shoot. Gocha confides in Dontay and reveals a shocking secret. Leah meets with Jonathan to talk business. Jonathan gives actress and TV personality Stacey Dash a blowout, while Kim styles actress Elise Neal. The staff photo shoot is a chaotic mess, leaving Kim exasperated and unsure whether Terry or Gocha is up to the challenge of managing her staff.

13. Shade and Betrayed

When Kim announces the new manager for her salon, Gocha and Terry are disappointed. Gocha makes it known that she has other plans, while Terry seeks counsel from Jonathan Antin. In Atlanta for the Bronner Brothers Hair Show, Gocha reveals to Dontay and Terry that she's opening her own salon, and offers Terry the manager position. At the salon's grand opening party, Kim confronts Gocha about her shadiness. Then Terry makes a stunning announcement that leaves Kim feeling shocked and betrayed.

14. LA Hair Confidential

Kim Kimble puts her stylists, sister Leah, and rival Jonathan Antin in the hot seat to discuss the highlights of Season 4 of LA Hair. Feuds are relit, motives are exposed, and exclusive, never-before-seen footage is revealed. Kim settles her score with Jonathan Antin. And for the first time since the season finale in Atlanta, Kim comes face to face with "Go-Shady" to discuss the opening of her new salon, and confronts Terry about his shocking split from the Kimble Salon.

1. I'm the Boss, Hunty!

Kim's stylists create looks to pitch for LA Fashion Week. Dontay is missing, and everyone wonders where he is. Angela has a tense meeting with Lisa; they decide not to work together. Kim styles Mary J. Blige, and Jonathan Antin drops by the salon with a mysterious envelope. A surprise new hire sparks trouble. Kim returns and is disappointed by the stylists' pitches. When Dontay rolls in late, Kim gets fed up and fires him! Antin returns and pitches Kim a business proposal she can't refuse.

2. Cat Walk, Cat Fight

Kim considers Jonathan's business proposal, and styles Tia Mowry. Leah, frustrated at Kim, hires former nail tech Naja back to the salon, without telling her sister. The stylists are stunned when Naja returns with a giant gold wall. The Kimble team styles hair at LA Fashion Week. Crowded backstage next to former colleagues Dontay and Angela, sparks fly as the stylists race to finish their models. Jonathan is impressed by the looks that Kim's team creates. Kim is shocked by Naja's return.

3. Nail'd by Naja

Kim is shocked to find Naja back in the salon, along with a giant gold wall reading "Nail'd by Naja", and is furious at Leah for bringing Naja back. Jonathan shows up extremely late for a meeting with Kim. China decides that if Naja can have her huge wall, then the rest of the stylists can bling out their stations too. Kim returns to the salon with Jonathan, and they're both appalled at the new décor. Dontay fights to get his job back. Kim styles Leela James. Gocha picks a shocking new roommate.

4. Wigs in the Wild

Dontay works for free to try to get his job back, and Zendaya pleads his cause to Kim. Kim takes the stylists on an overnight trip, and everyone complains when they arrive at a remote, rustic camp. When no one takes the team-building exercises seriously, Kim explodes with frustration and storms off. The next morning, China has a meltdown when she can't get a hot shower. Jas installs security cameras in the salon, and Kim and Leah are shocked when they see footage of Jonathan in Kim's VIP room!

5. Lights, Action, Meltdown

Kim puts the Atlanta salon on hold, shocking the stylists, then confronts Jonathan for snooping in her VIP room. Later, Kim meets with friend/celeb eyebrow stylist Damone Roberts. He shares business advice: hire secret shoppers. Kim styles Tamar Braxton. The undercover shoppers arrive at the salon and chaos ensues. China walks out, and Anthony and his client nearly come to blows. An infomercial training shoot goes awry when Jonathan's blunt direction offends Kim, and he storms off the set.

6. Model Behaviour

Kim appoints Gocha project manager for a photo shoot with designer Korto Momolu for her new bridal line. Anthony and China are demoted to makeup, after receiving poor reviews from Kim's secret shoppers. Kim styles Grammy Award winner Erica Campbell. At the shoot, Kim spars with a stubborn model. When Gocha shows up late and full of excuses, after double-booking herself with Malaysia Pargo of Basketball Wives, all hell breaks loose. Angela approaches Jonathan Antin about working at his salon.

7. A Hair Raising Proposal

Kim and Jonathan Antin have a heated discussion about the future of their partnership. Kim brings Terry and China to a camera test for La La Anthony's upcoming film. They fumble in their presentation, but Kim jumps in to save the day. Anthony and Naja spot Gocha and Angela on a hike together, but later Gocha denies it. Jonathan arrives at the salon with a contract for Kim, and a check. When Leah reads the fine print and notices the 65/35 split in Jonathan's favor, all hell breaks loose.

8. The Kim-pire Strikes Back

Kim is furious when she finds out that Jonathan has wiped out her inventory of custom hair bags. Naja warns Kim that Angela may be working with Jonathan, and maybe Angela is the reason Jonathan knows about Kim's bag supplier. Kim styles Garcelle Beauvais. Chaos erupts at a music video shoot when Anthony and Gocha battle. While Jonathan styles Harry Hamlin, Kim sends Dontay, Terry and China on a secret mission to get revenge. Jonathan goes ballistic when he finds out what they have done.

9. Weave Got an Informant!

Kim and Jonathan spar at a car dealership. Anthony confronts Angela about their relationship. After a tearful reconciliation, Anthony is shocked when he meets Angela's roommate. Kim has a meeting with a major beauty distributor that could mean big business for her brand. Kim styles LaTavia Roberson. A secret about Gocha tears through the salon and consumes the stylists: could she be an informant? The stylists decide that Kim must know, and when Terry reveals the news, Kim is shocked.

10. Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow

The stylists are shocked when Jonathan Antin arrives at the salon with his real estate broker, with the intent to buy the building. Kim throws a last-minute party, but leaves Leah to handle all the planning. Kim confronts Gocha about living with Angela, and Terry is shocked by the outcome. Kim meets Jonathan to discuss his recent shadiness, then styles K. Michelle for a music video featuring exotic animals. Kim makes an announcement at her party that causes drink throwing and a cry for security!
